SCIENCE AND INDUSTRY.

-It is said that more gold pens are made in New York than in all other cities in the world. -An ornithological expedition to the country about Kina-bula, the great flattopped mountain of Borneo, has resulted in the discovery of twenty-one new species of birds, including what is described as a splendid new broadbill.

FLORENCE, - DECEMBER 10, 1887

-The Charleston News and Courier arges that the South should manufactare every pound of cotton grown on profit from its principal agricultural product.

-There are 337 blast furnaces in operation in the United States, producing 125,539 tons per week, and 813 idle, with a weekly capacity of 122,042 tons. The anthracite capacity has increased from 33,602 tons weekly a year ago to 35, 278 now. - Public Opinion.

Some instructive observations on the supposed anti-matarial influence exerted by sunflowers have been made by the editor of the Monthly Journal of Pharmacy, who has found that a quarter of an acre of sunflowers will exhale in the form of vapor sixty-five gallons of water a day. This was in June, at a place where the mean mid-day temperature was only seventy degrees Fahrenneit.

-Stormy Seas. -The annual average of dangerous storms in different seas and gulfs has been tabulated by Mr. W. Doberck, of the Hong Kong observatory, as follows: Arabian sea, 70; Bay of Bengal, 115; Southern Indian ocean 53; Java sea, 12; China sea, 214; Gulf of Mexico, 355. In the Antilles the maximum frequency is in August; in the China sea, December; Java sea and Southern Indian ocean, February; Bay of Bengal. October; Arabian sea, June.

-Arkansaw Traveler. -By observing how far the sun has to sink beneath the horizon before the topmost summit of the air is cut off from its rays, the conclusion has been arrive at that the greatest upward limit of twilight is some 378,000 feet, or nearly seventy-one miles above the sea level. It is a well-known fact that, by observing the earth's shadow on the moon during the time of celipses, the inference came to be held by astronomers that the atmosphere must be sufficiently dense to produce twilight for at least 240,000 feet away from the earth's surface. - Boston Budget.

-German scientists have discovered a worm that devours steel rails. Railroad accidents at Hagan led to an investigation of the rails. After six months had clapsed the surface of the rails appeared to be corroded, as if by acid, to the extent of 100 yards. The rail was taken up and broken, and it was perceived that it was literally hollowed out by a thin gray worm. It is two centimeters in length and of the size of the prong of a silver fork in circumference. It is of light gray color and on the head carries two little glands filled with a corrosive secretion which is ejected every ten minutes upon the iron.

-Observations at Rothamsted, the celebrated farm of Sir John B. Lawes, in England, show that with an annual rainfall of a little less than thirty-two luches, each acre of land receives over fourteen pounds of pure chlorine every year in the rain water, or as much chloine as is contained in twenty-four pounds of common salt. The sulphurie acid which the soil receives from the same source amounts to upwards of seventeen pounds per acre annually, and the ammonia between two and three pounds. Thus it will be seen that the rain possesses distinct fertilizing properties apart from the necessary noisture which it supplies. -N. Y.

A Photographic Diary.

Some time ago there was an exhibition of amateur work here in New York, and another one is talked about. Perhaps the most interesting novelties in amateur work of the last few years are the numbers of amateur albums devoted to family history, constituting almost a pictorial diary of the family life. One noted amateur has rough manilla albums, each one devoted to one of his children. The first page shows the baby day old, and not month passes without a picture of that child or some of its surroundingsthe nursery, the house, its books and playthings. On some pages are family groups, in which the child figures. Peneath each picture is written the date, and the album will constitute a curious record for the future .- N. Y. Post.

-A negro cook on board of a Scotch schooner is the author of a novel way of killing a shark. He heated a firebrick red hot, wrapped it up in a greasy cloth, and threw it overboard, when the voracious shark darted after it and swallowed it. The shark's fury was soon subdued and he floated to the surface dead.

In the matter of the Estate and Guardian-bi of Eufemio Marujo, a Minor,

It appearing to this Court from the petition this day presented and filed by F. M. Griffin, the Guardian of the Estate of Eufemio Marujo, a minor praying for an order of sale of certain real estate belonging to his said ward, that is necessary and would be beneficial to said ward that such real estate should be sold.

It is hereby ordered that the next of kin of the said ward, and all persons interested in the said Estate, appear before this Court at 10 o'clock, on Monday the 26th day of December, A. D. 1887, at the room of said Court in the town of Florence, Pinal County, Arizona Territory then and there to show cause why an order should not be granted for the sale of such estate.

And it is further ordered, that a copy of this order be published at least four successive weeks before the said day of hearing in the Arizona Weekly Extragratise, a newspaper printed and published in said town of Florence, said County and Territory. Dated November 25th, 1887.
